

JAGIELLONIAN UNIVERSITY
MEDICAL COLLEGE
IN KRAKOW

THE ENGLISH-LANGUAGE STUDY PROGRAMS

Jagiellonian University Medical College

– medical part of Poland’s oldest university founded by King Casimir III the Great in 1364. Among the three faculties established at the time was the Faculty of Medicine, the birth of which gave rise to Polish medicine in Kraków, where it has advanced thenceforth for centuries.

Medical College is formed by three Faculties: Medicine, Pharmacy and Health Sciences. It boasts a student population of 6500 students, of which 700 are foreigners studying medicine and dentistry in English in the School of Medicine in English of the Faculty of Medicine.

The students of the school come from all over the globe. The University also offers doctoral and postgraduate studies for physicians from various regions of the country in all fields of medicine.

All the successes are a source of true joy to us, as they give us a sense of accomplishment in our mission. We want to build our future courageously, taking into consideration our students, employees, patients, residents of Kraków, Małopolska and other regions, as well as our partner universities, institutions and companies all over Poland and the globe.

We wish to continue developing so as to be able to practice medicine, pharmacy and health sciences on the highest possible level.

We would like to invite everyone who sees a joint benefit in the advancement of science, education and clinical facilities, and who wants to contribute to it, to join us in Kraków and in the Medical College.

Anno Domini
1364

Foreign students
700

From all over the globe

Libraries
(& Medical Library)

study and computer rooms

School Dormitory

Jagiellonian University Medical College, Faculty of Medicine offers English-language Medical Doctor degree program and Doctor of Dental Surgery degree program that stand in compliance with Polish, European Union and North American standards. Graduates of these programs receive MD degree approved internationally.

Jagiellonian University Medical College is accredited by Polish Commission of Accreditation and recognised by the U.S. Department of Education.

Our students are eligible to complete a clinical rotation in approved teaching hospitals and our graduates are eligible to enter postgraduate training and apply for licensure in Canada and the US, as well as European countries.

School of Medicine in English

is a part of the Jagiellonian University Faculty of Medicine. It offers dental and medical curricula to students from all over the world.

Classes are run in small groups, in compliance with European and American standards which enables direct student-teacher and student-patient contact.

Our Graduates receive a diploma of a physician (equal to Medical Doctor or Dental Doctor Degree) that allows them to apply for residency programs in their home countries.

If medicine is your calling there is no better place to study it than the Jagiellonian University, School of Medicine in English. We look forward to receiving your application.

If you have any questions regarding admission, feel free to contact

School of Medicine in English Faculty of Medicine Jagiellonian University Medical College

 ul. św. Łazarza 16, 31-530 Kraków, Poland

 medschool.uj.edu.pl  smeoffice@uj.edu.pl  +48 12 422 80 42

International Students Mobility Office of the Jagiellonian University

 dmws.uj.edu.pl/en\_GB/